

Adventure Learning Camps

“Where Learning Is Fun”

Phillips Farm Family Camp September 26th and 27th

This is an opportunity for families to get an introduction to camping, backpacking and spending time outdoors in a safe and friendly way. You can come to this with any knowledge base - very experienced to no experience at all - and we guarantee you will walk away knowing more.

Equipment will be provided or you can bring your own and we'll help you with it. Families will rotate between stations teaching navigation, knots, first aid, nature journaling, plants, shelter building, and animals. The $10 fee includes food and equipment.

Level One Trip

Cost: $10 per person

Ages 5 and up

Difficulty Rating 1 out of 10

Our mission is to foster growth and enhance well-being of children and families through enjoyable, nature-based, active learning experiences. Adventure Learning believes that the foundation of a sustainable society requires children to learn resilience, cooperation, self-confidence, and connection between our everyday lives and the natural world.
